COURSE INFORMATION
Course Description	Throughout its long history spanning over 10,000 years Anatolia, the land that is now Turkey is an extension and homeland of many great civilizations of the world heritage, such as Hattians, Hittites, Phrygians, Urartians, Lydians, Ionians, Carians, Lycians, Persians, Hellenistic people, Romans, Seljuks, Ottomans and finally the people of the modern republic. Given the fact that there are lots of antique cities in Turkey, this course deals with antique cities-why they are important, what they represent to consumers, and what organisations should do to manage them properly.
Course Objectives	Some may consider antique cities as mere ruins and rubble. Nonetheless, each ruin has a tale to tell, each carries a story of the past. A picture or a column can speak volumes about the people that inhabited those lands. Turkey is a cradle of civilizations and has the marks to prove it. Almost every province reveals traces of a different civilization, each more fascinating than the next. Structures or ruins/objects that represented the ancient cities of Turkey are discussed, such as city walls, acropolis, agora, forum, stoa, stoas & streets, bouleterion, prytaneion, aqueduct, fountain, bath, gymnasium, theater, hippodrome, temple, house, and basilica. Ancient Cities surveys the cities of the ancient worlds from the perspectives of archaeology and architectural history, Anatolian culture, flora-fauna, ecological, bringing to life the physical world of ancient city dwellers by concentrating on evidence recovered from archaeological excavations. The chief purpose of this course is to provide a comprehensive and up-to-

	date treatment of the subjects of ancient cities management and tourism. Students will learn about ancient cities of seven geographical regions.
Learning Objectives	Upon completion of the course, the student should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Achieve the high level of awareness regarding the preservation and conservation of ancient cities ■ Gain insight into ancient cities of seven geographical regions from the perspectives of archaeology and architectural history, Anatolian culture, flora-fauna, ecological factors ■ Recognise the importance of ancient cities management ■ Examine structures or ruins/objects that represented the ancient cities of Turkey such as city walls, acropolis, agora, forum, stoa, stoas & streets, bouleterion, prytaneion, aqueduct, fountain, bath, gymnasium, theater, hippodrome, temple, house, and basilica ■ Develop a basic understanding of ancient cities management ■ Examine how an ancient city differs from the other ones ■ Understand how can sustain ancient cities to expand travel/tourism business opportunities
