ERASMUS+ KA103 Erasmus European Mobility Program

What is Erasmus+ KA103 European Mobility Program?

Erasmus+ European Mobility is a program that enables student and staff mobility between higher education institutions (HEIs) of 28 EU member countries plus Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway, the FYR of Macedonia, and Turkey. To participate in this program HEIs of these countries apply to European Commission to be able to get eligible for Erasmus Charter for Higher Education (ECHE). International cooperation between HEIs in these countries is established through bilateral student and staff mobility agreement.

ERASMUS+ KA107 International Credit Mobility Program (ICM Program)

What is International Credit Mobility (ICM Program)?

For over 25 years, Europe has funded the Erasmus program, which has enabled over 3 million European students to spend part of their studies in another higher education institution (HEI) elsewhere in Europe. Erasmus+ now opens up these opportunities to students and staff from other parts of the world.

Under international credit mobility, a HEI in a Partner Country can send its students, doctoral candidates or staff to a partner HEI in a Program Country, and vice versa. Similarly, staff can spend a teaching and/or training period abroad for up to 2 months according to the received grant for project.

Erasmus+ KA107 or International Credit Mobility (ICM) programme is a fully-funded mobility program that enables exchange of students, teaching and non-teaching staff between Antalya Bilim University and its partners (Higher Education Institutions-HEI or non-HEIs). The mobilities within the scope of project numbered “2019-1-TR01-KA107-073730” must be completed between the dates of 01/08/2019 and 31/07/2021. Erasmus+ International Credit Mobility Program enables exchange of students from Antalya Bilim University for study mobility activity in the fields of “Civil Engineering”, “Mechanical Engineering”, for University of Bihac (Bosnia Herzegovina) and in the field of “Computer Engineering” and “Business Management” for Kolegji Universum (Kosovo).
